OVERVIEW

Executive summary

TTH Agencies and Logistics (Pty) Ltd (TTH) is a South African supply chain management company that is one hundred percent (100%) black-youth owned. The company seeks to play a pivotal role in an industry that is essential to the country's economic function, the road freight industry, including some of its core functions in the value-chain; storage warehousing as well as customs clearing. By enlisting TTH as your preferred service provider, your company will enjoy access to a committed and competent team with over a decade industry-experience, and you can rest assured that you will get stellar service delivery, whether on a short or long term contract, regardless of the size of your business.

Target market

We are committed to providing high quality expert services to various categories of clients, from SMMEs to large and established companies as well as government agencies, across the country and even beyond the South African borders.

Our goal

We are working tirelessly throughout the year to ensure that we give our clients world class services and establish more service provider-client relationships across the African continent as we have already made inroads across Southern Africa.
